Kitchen / Bar / Food Processing Mats

WHAT IS SPECIAL ABOUT KITCHEN MATS?

To succeed in a commercial kitchen environment and not break down quickly, mats require a high percentage of Nitrile Rubber. Natural rubber has poor resistant to oils, fats and greases.

At least 40% Nitrile content added to natural or synthetic rubber ensures far superior grease resistance.

In addition, mats should drain well, as there is a prevalence of liquid spillage in kitchens.

And, from a safety perspective, good ramping, with a gentle slope along all edges where traffic may walk on and off the mat, is an essential to prevent trips.
